Indiana County Land Title Abstracts and Deeds, Manuscript Group 48
Indiana University of Pennsylvania, Special Collections and University Archives
7 boxes, 7 linear feet

Historical Note
Indiana County, Pennsylvania was formed out of Lycoming and Westmoreland Counties on March 12, 1803, and it was named for its indigenous people. Many traders visited Indiana County during the 18th century. Scots-Irish from Cumberland County, Pennsylvania began to arrive in Indiana County during the 1780s and were soon followed by German Lutherans in the 1790s. Indiana, the county seat, was laid out in 1805 on land given by George Clymer (1739-1813). Blairsville, laid out in 1818, became a key city along the Huntingdon, Cambria, and Indiana Turnpike, which later became Route 22.
