Historical Background
In 1987, federal legislation was passed to establish the Southwestern Pennsylvania Heritage Preservation Commission within the Department of the Interior. This Commission coordinates America's Industrial Heritage Project, a regional effort to preserve, promote, and interpret the sites and stories of America's industrial heritage in southwestern Pennsylvania. The commission serves as the catalyst for the project's partnership efforts, and through the conservation and commemoration of these industrial sites, the commission will spark economic development in the region.

This collection consists of the records of the Southwestern Pennsylvania Heritage Preservation Commission, and includes the commission's central files, meeting minutes and agendas, materials published by the Commission and its contracting agencies, and correspondence of the Commission staff.

Scope and Content Note with Series Descriptions

Series A: General Commission Files

Subseries I: Central Files
This subseries contains the files maintained by the Commission office in Hollidaysburg and Johnstown for each project in the nine-county region. Included are meeting notes pertaining to the project, reports on or about many of these projects, brochures for many of the AIHP sites, and other miscellaneous materials which relate to each particular project. Also included in this subseries are some administrative materials pertaining to the operation of the Commission, such as budgets, correspondence, and monthly meeting packets.

While this subseries provides a good overall view of the Commission and its daily operation, of special interest are four notebooks from the formative years of the America's Industrial Heritage Project which contain meeting notes, notes from brainstorming sessions and weekly reports of the Project, beginning as early as 1986. The reports in particular are rich in detail of the initial stages of AIHP, providing a candid look at the evolution of the project between 1986 and 1990. (See Box 18)

Subseries II Photographs
Many of the central files in Subseries I included photographs. These photographs have been removed from these files and placed in proper storage containers in this series. They are arranged by reference number, which can be obtained from the project file in which the photograph originally appeared in Subseries I. Subseries IIa includes Commission photographs and contact sheets unrelated to the Central Files. They are arranged in the subseries alphabetically by the title of the photograph.
